Kathy Griffin - Comedienne

To create a holiday décor to suit her expansive personality, RNL found Kathy Griffin's home a blast to decorate! Her main concern: creating a winter wonderland that seamlessly incorporated her existing décor without being too cute. A minimalist at heart, Kathy didn't want any festive clutter.

The foyer, an oasis of water complete with reflecting pools and fountains, needed a splash of color. The first step was to add an icy blue colorant to the water and polar bears to the winter landscape. The bears seemed to be at home, as if they were in the Arctic.

Kathy's dining room table was fitted with an ice blue linen underlay and an icy white overlay. The living room's focal point was a white Christmas tree, filled with white and silver ornaments. White feathered wreaths and hanging snowflakes adorned the surrounding wall spaces.

RNL designs creative yet practical ideas for celebrating the holiday season. The décor is customized to fit the client's personality, as well as home style. The company takes into consideration events planned during the holidays, as well as the everyday functions of the home.

Shopping for holiday goods requires a certain amount of expertise and insider know-how. RNL offers these buying guide tips: Target is amazing for plastic unbreakable ornaments. They come in a variety of shapes, colors and sizes. Home Goods is a great source for finding holiday figurines, topiaries and tree skirts. Pottery Barn, best known for glassware and candles, offers a colorful selection in deep, rich hues.

Pier 1 Imports is great for pre-made wreaths and oversized props. Crate and Barrel offers a vast selection of amazing table settings and linens. Bloomingdale's is also a good choice for this category.

RNL celebrity in-home décor consultation packages are now available. Celebrity homes were decorated using materials from Crate and Barrel, Department 56, Home Goods, Pier 1 Imports, Pottery Barn and Target. A selection of holiday giftware was purchased from specialty stores.

Lance Bass - Musical Artist

A Grinch-Style Holiday— The Dr. Seuss-Theme inspired by Lance's favorite childhood book How the Grinch Stole Christmas was attained by incorporating multi-sized trees and topiaries, decorative tables, and figurines of the Grinch himself throughout the Los Angeles home.

Above the 10-foot Christmas tree, RNL suspended a giant life-size Grinch. White garland, streamed with red and green lights, and a Seussian Christmas stocking created a larger than life décor to the entry foyer and staircase. The Grinch theme continued on the exterior of the building as well, with custom bedding for the outdoor lounge area.

Joey Fatone - Musical Artist

Joey Fatone and wife Kelly wanted a warm and homey feel for their holiday décor. The couple, who has a 5-year-old daughter, entertains often and wanted a traditional scene to welcome the holidays.

Using warm tones of gold and bronze, RNL transformed the Georgian-inspired Florida home into a Christmas retreat, reminiscent of a Rocky Mountain ski lodge. Vintage wooden sleds, gold and white-frosted lights, and soft cream flowers accented the main foyer, filled with pinecones and Christmas greens. Twig-wrapped cinnamon-sticks throughout the main foyer set an aromatic stage for a peaceful holiday season.

The main dining room colors, inspired by The Wizard of Oz, included custom table linens, napkins and chair covers tailored to fit their existing furniture space. Green glassware and gold chargers, together with green feather wreaths and Christmas tree candles, outfitted the table.

Keeping with family tradition, trees were trimmed in shades of gold and copper using crystal ornaments, amber pearls and ribbons. Warm hues and subtle illuminations fill the foyer with a seasonal bliss, welcoming visitors as soon as they enter the home.

No Place Like Home for the Holidays

RNL (Roses-N-Lollypops) designs festive home décor for the holidays. From playful Los Angeles mansions to Georgian-inspired estates, your wishes can come true during the holiday season. Celebrity clientele preferences have included a diverse and personal representation of the winter season and have joyfully decked the halls with Christmas cheer.

Beverly Mitchell - 7th Heaven

Young, fun, vibrant and full of life, Beverly wanted a décor to match her personality.

Starting with a burgundy decorated Christmas tree and following through with ornamental accents in hues of purples and pinks, Beverly's home came alive with the rich and vibrant colors of the season. The room exuded a warm feminine feeling, which RNL complemented with matching pink window treatments, feathered pillows, soft purple throw blankets and sweet sugar cookie candles. Beverly's table, with service for six, was fitted with a custom table linen utilizing the color palette of hot pink, purple and burgundy. All the glassware and flatware, as well as the hot pink napkins, accented the table.
